Terminus. Where Buckhead begins.

Long before Atlanta, the land here held great promise. It was a place where trails converged, settlers put down roots, and commerce and social interaction flourished. The town became known as Terminus.

Now, a new Terminus has sprung up from the same fertile ground, this time an incredible combination of living, working and leisure spaces that will transform the landscape and redefine the center of our city.

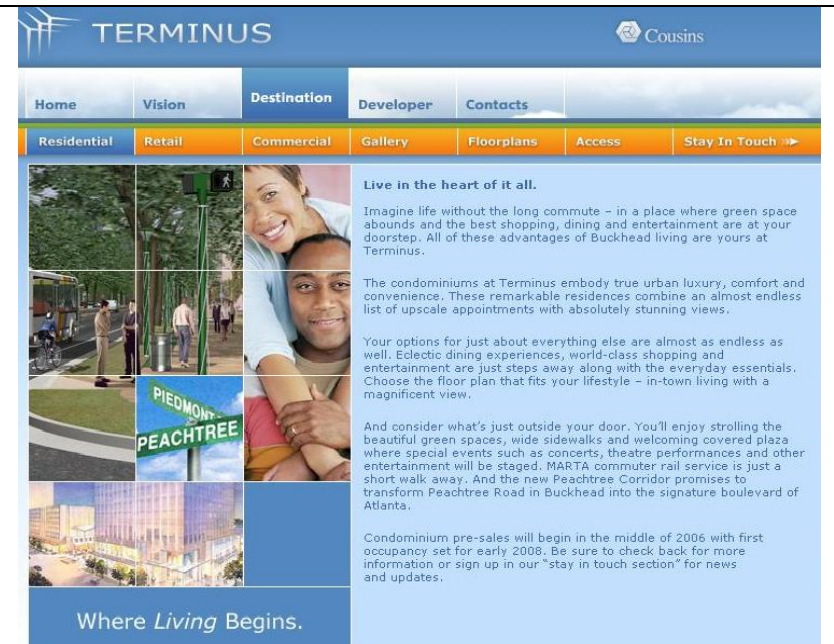

Located at the corner of Atlanta's most recognizable and prominent streets, Peachtree and Piedmont, Terminus is destined to become a true landmark as well as one of the most prestigious new addresses in Atlanta.

This ambitious multi-phase project is being developed by Cousins Properties, one of the most admired and respected commercial real estate developers in the nation, and is designed by renowned Duda-Paine Architects.

Truly a place of influence and impeccable location, Terminus is set on 10 prime acres in the heart of upscale Buckhead. The master plan includes an intelligent and harmonious blending of office, hotel, residential and retail. Its vision: to become one of the great destinations in Atlanta.

Now you have the opportunity to realize your own vision of urban life and sophistication here at Terminus.
